U.S. District Court, Western District of Texas

Andrea is senior counsel with Prichard Young and focuses her practice on appellate and litigation support. She is responsible for researching and drafting the firm's substantive pleadings, motions, and briefs.

Upon graduation from law school, Andrea served as Briefing Attorney to the Honorable Chief Justice Alma Lopez and Justice Marialyn Barnard at the Texas Fourth Court of Appeals. After her clerkship, she practiced oil and gas title examination, which required her to analyze a variety of documents concerning the transfer of property, including real estate deeds, mineral and royalty deeds, and oil and gas leases. In 2015, she returned to the Texas Fourth Court of Appeals to serve as a staff attorney to the Honorable Justice Marialyn Barnard and Beth Watkins. Andrea joined Prichard Young in 2021, bringing over nine years of appellate experience which allows her to provide valuable insight to our clients on appellate matters.
